PRESIDENT DISCUSSES JAP IMMIGRATION BILL PROTESTS WITH C. P. SENATE LEADERS

Fate of Immigration Bill Involved in Conference Called By The President, Who Goes Over Problem with Senators Lodge and Curtis, Both of Whom Voted For Japanese Exclusion—Protests Made in Japan.

Washington, April 17.—(By the A. P.)—The fate of the immigration bill with its Japanese exclusion provision was involved in another conference today between President Coolidge and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican Senate leader, prior to resumption of Senate debate on the measure. Senator Lodge said the immigration bill question had been discussed but would not say whether he had obtained any information as to the probable action of the President when the message reaches the White House.

Senator Williston, Republican, Ohio, who with Senator Lodge supported the Japanese exclusion provision, conferred with the President following the visit of the Republican leader.

NIGHT SESSIONS THREATENED
Washington, April 17.—With night sessions threatened to speed up action on the immigration bill the Senate today tackled the problem of quota percentages and the troublesome provision fixing the 1910 census as the basis of allotment to the various admissible aliens.

Proposals to place one, two and three percent limits on the quotas were pending today and differences among Senators over the census basis were complicated by the provision in the measure passed by the House designating the 1890 census figures as the basis for two percent quotas.

An intended amendment to establish a permanent quota basis for the future was adopted yesterday, providing that after July 1, 1927, unless Congress directs otherwise in the meantime, the allotment shall be fixed in accordance with an analysis of the national origin of persons comprising the population of the continental United States in 1920. A survey and the estimate will be made by the Secretary of State, Commerce and Labor and would be available by March 4, 1926.

INSULT, HE SAYS
Tokio, April 17.—(By the A. P.)—The Japanese exclusion provision made a law by the United States was Japanese will feel that the Americans have spat in our face," said Saito Uchida, former Japanese ambassador to Turkey, declared here today at a luncheon of the Trans-Pacific club.

TO BE RECALLED
Tokio, April 17.—Ambassador Haruhara at Washington is to be recalled by the Japanese government, the newspaper Yomiuri declared today. The publication added that Foreign Minister Matsui will resign in order to appease the storm expected at the coming session of the Imperial Diet over the immigration problem. Both reports were officially denied.

Tokio, April 17.—(By the A. P.)—A mass meeting of Osaka citizens in protest against proposed exclusion of Japanese from the United States was called today by the Osaka Chamber of Commerce.

A delegation representing immigration societies visited the foreign office here today and urged opposition to the exclusion measure.

WIFE HELD AS HUSBAND DIES

Shot Down While Riding in His Automobile

Canon City, Colo., April 17.—Police were without information today as to the manner in which James Allen Dickey, 43, was shot and killed when riding in his automobile near here last night. Dickey was a former resident of Winfield, Kansas, and reputed to be wealthy.

Dickey's wife walked into police headquarters after the body had been found to tell of her husband's death. She is held pending further investigation.

Police assert that Mrs. Dickey told them she and her husband had quarreled.

She quoted him as saying "if you will not live with me you shall not live with any other man."

He jerked a revolver from his pocket while steering the car with one hand, she continued. "I grasped his hand and in the struggle that ensued the revolver was discharged. I do not know whether I killed him or whether he killed himself. I do not know whose finger pulled the trigger."

In the struggle the automobile swung into a ditch and turned partly over. Mrs. Dickey then said she turned out the lights, stopped the motor and started to walk to Canon City.

PIG TO PORK CHOP
Milwaukee, Wis., April 17.—Pork at $1 a pig is the price quoted by the Indians of the Florida everglades, while three miles away the hotel keepers of Miami and Palm Beach sell it for $1 a chop. This according to A. B. Skinner, curator of anthropology in the Milwaukee public museum.

WILL SING IN BISMARCK FOR ROTARY MEET

MISS FAUCHALD

The Bismarck Rotary conference committee feels extremely fortunate in securing Miss Nora Fauchald, a Minot girl who has won fame in the east as a soprano soloist, to sing at the Ninth district conference here next week.

Miss Fauchald, who has completed a season as soloist for the famous Sousa band, has come to Minot for a brief visit, and it was only because of this that the Rotary committee was able to get her to sing here. She has been highly praised by music critics of the Washington, D. C. Herald, Baltimore Sun, Los Angeles Times, Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch and many others.

PROCTOR, ANGEL OF WOOD'S 1920 FIGHT, CALLED

Wealthy Manufacturer, Who Supplied Cash for Campaign, Says He Will Testify

OTHERS ON THE STAND

Witness Says Jake Hamon Sought Texas Delegation For Lowden, Not Harding

Washington, April 17.—William Proctor of Cincinnati, notified Senator Walsh of the Senate office committee today that he will arrive in Washington tomorrow in response to the committee's subpoena served on him yesterday. He finished the campaign of Leonard Wood in 1920 and is to be questioned concerning campaign contributions and happenings at the Chicago convention. Phil F. Baer, United States Marshal for the eastern district of Texas, testified at today's hearing regarding his acquaintance with the late Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committee member of Oklahoma. Baer said he was a delegate to the Chicago convention and that Hamon sought to get the Texas delegation to vote solidly for Lowden. He added that the delegation was split between Wood, Lowden and Harding.

The witness said he had never had any conversation with Hamon about Hamon's ambitions politically.

W. W. Tarbell of Bethel, Connecticut, was recalled and asked by Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, for an opinion of the oil leases. He previously had given his qualification as an "experienced oil man."

In view of the fact that the question asked by Senator Kendrick seems to be perhaps immaterial and certainly his answer irrelevant," Mr. Tarbell said, "I suggest that both be expunged from the record. No action was taken on the request. In the committee session of March 27, 1924, Senator Kendrick, Democrat, Maine, and Tarbell why "the Associated Press had declined his interview" and Tarbell replied "they said they had too many friends on both sides."

DANIELSON IS NAMED OFFICER
Minot, April 17.—C. E. Danielson of Minot yesterday was elected as third vice-president of the Theodore Roosevelt Highway association which replaces the Theodore Roosevelt International association, at a meeting held at Walla Walla, Wash., according to dispatches received in this city today. The new route of the highway will be between Portland, Maine and Portland, Oregon, via the twin cities. Harry Taylor of Duluth, Minn., was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Mandan Team In Semi-Finals

Grand Forks, N. D., April 17.—The Mandan high school debating team will meet Milton and the Elston team will debate Cavalier in the fifth and semifinal round of the series to decide the 1924 high school debating championship of North Dakota, according to pairings announced by the extension department of the University of North Dakota.

Mandan will have the choice of side of the question against Milton and Elston will have the choice of place against Cavalier.

This round is to be completed May 3, and the winners will meet to decide the state honors at the University of North Dakota May 18 during the annual high school week.

HIGH SCHOOLS OF N. D. HAVE BIG PROGRAM

University of North Dakota Prepares for the Annual Gathering There

Grand Forks, April 17.—General and Round Table conferences of state educators, addresses by prominent educational workers, debate league finals, and musical, dramatic, athletic and declamatory contests will feature the twenty-second annual High School Week which will be held at the University of North Dakota during the week of May 12. A. H. Yoder, director of the University Extension Division, announced today.

The 1924 gathering, he added, is expected to attract the largest and most enthusiastic delegation of educators and students of any meet held so far. Extensive plans are being made for the week's festivities, Mr. Yoder said.

Plans are under way, he said to house the expected large delegation in various recitation rooms in the school building on the campus. This has been found necessary, he pointed out, owing to the fact that in recent years the meet has become so popular that the afforded rooming space in the various halls, fraternities and sororities and city rooming houses, but has been insufficient. Almost a thousand students are expected to attend. Under the plan, the visitors will receive their meals at the University Commons, where they will constitute an addition of virtually 2,000 extra meals a day.

Field and Track Meet
The oldest contest is the field and track meet, the twenty-second anniversary of which will also occur on May 17th. Last year 37 schools received the contest and 18 schools received one more points. The meet was won by Fargo with 32 points, followed by Grand Forks with 30 points. This year the competition is expected to be keen especially between Fargo and Grand Forks.

For the fourth time there will be an interscholastic tennis meet. This has been won since its beginning by the Fargo Midgits.

Another trial of state-wide interest is the declamatory contest, this is the second oldest of the contests and has grown in popularity since its beginning. Last year students from 50 high schools entered the contest. The girls' section was won by Alice Collins of Bottineau, and the boys' section was secured by Olaf Bjornstad, also of Bottineau. The declamators under the rules this year must select their declamations from a list of approved authors which contain such writers as Kipling, Poe, Shakespeare, Ibsen, Wiggan, George Elliott and Roosevelt.

THAW WITNESS FOR HIMSELF

Philadelphia, April 17.—Harry K. Thaw, flushed and confident, testified for a brief period in his own behalf in his sanity trial today. His lawyers dramatically turned him over to the other side for cross-examination.

OLIVE BRANCH IS HELD FORTH IN DEM SCRAP

J. E. Campbell of Mandan Offers to Join with G. S. Woolledge in State Call

WORNER IN N. D. RACE

Name Will be Presented to Jamestown Convention as Candidate For Auditor

The olive branch was held out by J. E. Campbell of Mandan, declared state chairman at a Valley City meeting of the Democratic state central committee, to G. S. Woolledge of Minot, who denied he was ousted as chairman, to avoid two Democratic state conferences or conventions. Mr. Campbell dispatched the following telegram to Mr. Woolledge at Minot:

"Will join in or concurrently issue separate call for one Democratic delegate convention to be held April 29 at either Bismarck, Jamestown, Valley City or Fargo. Democrats in state unanimously oppose idea of two conventions. Wire answer."

The name of Walter G. Worner will be presented to the Jamestown convention next week as a candidate for the indorsement for state auditor from Richland county. Mr. Worner, here today, stating that he had decided to allow his name to be submitted, said he would strictly abide by the decision of the convention.

Mr. Worner was county treasurer of Richland county for four years, his home city being Wahpeton. Following that he was deputy state auditor for two years. Although he is at the present time a resident of Bismarck, he will be presented as a Richland county candidate, having lived there for many years.

Friends of Mr. Worner here who urged his name pointed out that he was thoroughly versed in the affairs of the state auditor's position, because of his experience there, and also that he would stand on the Jamestown convention ticket as a representative of people of German descent in the state, which his friends say comprise about 40 percent of the population. He is married and has a family.

Minot, N. D., April 17.—Resolutions urging the coming state Republican convention at Jamestown to renominate R. A. Nestos for governor and to appeal to all voters regardless of party politics to assist in his re-election, which were approved last night by the executive committee of the "real" Republican central committee of the governor's home county, will be presented to a mass convention of Republicans this afternoon at the University of North Dakota, at which time 19 delegates to the state convention will be named.

Minot, N. D., April 17.—"Real" Republicans, in county convention here yesterday, unanimously adopted resolutions urging the coming state Republican convention at Jamestown to renominate R. A. Nestos for governor and commending the present state administration for its accomplishments.

Walter R. Bond of Minot was indorsed for renomination to the office of state senator of the 29th legislative district. John Barnes of Surrey, E. E. Frederen of Ryder, Mrs. C. B. Bach and Einar Mus, both of Minot were indorsed as candidates for the lower house of the state legislature.

A group of delegates from the 2nd legislative district recommended that no indorsements be made for candidates for the legislature from that district.

Nineteen delegates to represent Ward county at the state convention were selected.

GERMAN NOTE IS APPROVED

Paris, April 17.—The reparations commission, at a plenary session this afternoon, decided unanimously to take note of the reply of the German government, adhering to the conclusion reached in the experts' report and to approve, within the limits of the commission's attributes the conclusions, and to adopt the methods proposed therein.

Bank President Shot, Is Dead

Kansas City, April 17.—John M. Moore, depositor president of the Fidelity National Bank and Trust Company, died today without making any statement as to a discrepancy of $600,000 which has been found in his accounts.

Sells Property
H. A. Stegner of Amidon was here yesterday completing the sale of his house on Second street to George Bird, the sale being made through the Hedden real estate agency.

The expense of maintaining schools in the United States is $9.80 for every year in the country.

BANK CONDUCT AT WILLISTON IS DEFENDED

John F. Sullivan, Attorney, Says Voting Trust Agreement was for Good of Bank

EXPLAINS THE BASIS

Disastrous Crop Conditions Alone Cause Williams Co. Bank to Fail, He Says

The "voting trust" agreement which was made when the Williams County State Bank of Williston was refinanced in December, 1920, and which was the basis of attacks leading up to the filing of charges against four signatories by U. L. Burdick was explained today by John F. Sullivan of Mandan, attorney for two of those named defendants in the complaint instituted by Burdick. The charges against the four men involved—George F. Bates of the Citizens Trust Company of Buffalo, N. Y.; Ed. Schulenberg, First National Bank, St. Paul; Erick Thorberg, First National Bank, Minneapolis; and Gilbert Semington, at present state bank examiner but who represented the Bank of North Dakota in the agreement—were dismissed in Williston yesterday.

"The actual facts in the matter show not only that there was nothing criminal in the voting trust agreement, but in truth and in fact the so-called trust arrangements from the standpoint of what appeared to be the conditions at that time was for the best interests of the bank and its depositors," said Mr. Sullivan.

Outside banks refinanced the Williams County Bank in 1920. They allowed credit of approximately a quarter of a million dollars and advanced $32,000 cash to take up bad paper, according to Mr. Sullivan. The outside banks who had done this desired to know that the bank would be under what they considered safe management. The voting trust agreement was made under which their representatives could vote the stock and protect themselves.

Advanced Credit
"The result of the trust agreement was that Twin City banks advanced credit approximating a quarter of a million dollars," said Mr. Sullivan. "If conditions in the Williston territory had subsequently been anything other than absolutely disastrous the Williston bank today would have been one of the big banks of the state."

The voting trust agreement did not require that the outside bankers be permitted to run the bank, Mr. Sullivan said, "but was simply for the purpose of assuring the banks who were advancing the money that the management of the bank would be in the hands of people capable of giving it expert attention."

No changes were forced in the bank personnel, it was pointed out. "Reports show that up to the end of this trust agreement, which terminated on January 11, 1923, months before the bank closed, that the bank was in excellent condition insofar as bad paper was concerned," Mr. Sullivan continued. "As a matter of fact when the trust arrangement was entered into, it permitted the taking out of all paper known to be bad at the time, which amounted to the neighborhood of $32,000."

When it was necessary to refinance the Williston bank, it is pointed out here at the banking department, not only the bank directors but citizens of Williston were called in to pass on the security in the banks' hands, since the local people knew the neighborhood of the bank better than outsiders. The paper they decided was "bad paper" was ordered out of the bank.

Crops Failed
Several banking department officials assert that if the Williston district had had a crop in 1923 like the district enjoyed in 1922 the bank never would have closed. The Williston area, they say, was one of the hardest hit in the state, and there was more emigration from that district than in most others. It was pointed out that lands in the Williston district sank in value so that their selling value lacked $4 to $6 an acre of equaling the amount of first mortgages, and since first mortgages usually made on a 40 to 50 percent valuation, the shrinkage in land values, for banking purposes, was more than half. As an example, one official pointed out that $2,000 loan might have been made on a farm considered worth $4,000. The farm later would sell for not more than $1,500, or less than the mortgage.

It was true, of better, it is pointed out. The Williston bank was finally forced to close June 12, 1923. Gilbert Semington, who figured in the voting trust agreement, was deputy state examiner in December, 1920, and he represented the Bank of North Dakota, which was heavily involved with the Williston bank. F. W. Cathro was director-general of the Bank of North Dakota at the time.

MOVIE ACTRESS IS ASSAILED

Sacramento, Calif., April 17.—Barbara LeMar, movie vamp, will not appear again on the silver screen of this city if the Woman's Council of Sacramento has its way.

The Council yesterday adopted a resolution requesting motion picture houses in the city to refrain from exhibiting pictures in which Miss LeMar appears.

The Council's action is based on a statement alleged to have been made in San Francisco by Miss LeMar in which she declared "a woman must be immoral in order to be a movie vamp."

SUICIDES OF YOUNG PEOPLE ON INCREASE

President of Save-a-Life League Blames Fast Times For The Increase

New York, April 17.—Placing the number of deaths by suicide in the United States last year at between 15,000 and 16,000 Dr. Harry M. Warren, president of the Save-a-Life League, in his annual report, attributed the increase to the fast times. "If conditions in the Williston territory had subsequently been anything other than absolutely disastrous the Williston bank today would have been one of the big banks of the state."

"During the past five years," Mr. Warren says, "about 1,000 children between the ages of five and 18 have been on the suicide list. One girl made 12 different attempts to die. Most of these children and young people ended their lives because of unhappy home conditions, unpleasant school experiences, youthful marriages (500 last year in the United States at the age of 15 being listed as widows or divorced) and the jazz spirit of the times."

Statistics gathered by the League show that among the suicides last year were 62 physicians; 48 lawyers and judges; 14 ministers; 64 bankers; 72 brokers; 43 actors; 26 editors and writers, and 110 presidents and owners of large business concerns.

VALLEY CITY WINS FIGHT

Fargo, April 17.—Valley City has won its long fight to get the North Coast Limited trains, back to the downtown station, instead of over the highway. It was announced recently by L. R. Challoner, Fargo agent, that a new time card will go into effect April 22, under which trains No. 1 and No. 2 will run over the lowline, stopping at the downtown station instead of at the high-line station.

Whether any of the other trains will go over the highway, is not known. At the present time, all other trains over the main line, No. 3 and No. 4; No. 7 and No. 8; No. 135 and 136, go over the lowline.

BROOKLYN POLICE STILL BAFFLED IN BOB-HAIRED BANDIT SEARCH

New York, April 17.—Still baffled in their search for Brooklyn's notorious bobbed-hair bandit, identified by them as Celia Cooney, 19, an expectant mother whose husband served as her partner in crime, police said today they had dug out evidence which convinced them the gun woman was a two-in-one robber.

In other words, they said, she was both the blonde and brunette girl they have been seeking for several weeks for a series of daring robberies which culminated March 29 when the much-sought robber in skirts shot down a clerk of the National Biscuit Company in Brooklyn when her capture seemed imminent.

Today a Brooklyn landlady at whose house Mrs. Cooney once had a room told the police the girl dyed her hair, sometimes appearing with bobbed tresses of rich brown and at other times with a head enriched with curls of reddish gold.

MAIL POUCHES WITH PAYROLL ARE IN LOOT

Postal Employees at South St. Paul Station Kept Covered As Raid Is Made

GUN GUARDS SENT OUT

Car in which Robbers Escaped Is Found Abandoned 15 Miles From Scene

St. Paul, Apr. 17.—Thirty-five thousand dollars in currency was included in the loot obtained by three bandits who held up two postal employees in South St. Paul today, escaping with five pouches containing a large quantity of registered mail.

The robbery took place at the Chicago, Great Western Station, just after a south bound train had unloaded the five mail pouches, one of which contained the $35,000 payroll for Armour and Company's South St. Paul plant.

Just as the mail pouches were being loaded onto a postoffice truck the bandits drew up in a large automobile. Two sprang to the platform with drawn revolvers, forcing Albert Manthey and Walter Van Hale, postal employees, to surrender the mail bags.

Keeps Employees Covered

While the postal employees kept the two postal employees covered the other threw the pouches into the automobile. Then both jumped into the machine, still training revolvers on Manthey and Van Hale as they sped away, heading toward St. Paul.

Gun squads, motorcycle patrolmen and detectives from both Minneapolis and St. Paul were sent out within 15 minutes after the robbery, covering every road from the south leading into the two cities.

In addition to the payroll the pouches contained registered mail of an undetermined value but police authorities expressed belief that the payroll was the only thing the bandits were after and probably would discard the other pouches.

Find Car Abandoned

Two hours after the robbery gun squads found the abandoned car 15 miles from the scene of the crime, near the Cedar Avenue bridge in Minneapolis. Apparently the bandits had continued their flight in another machine. Four of the mail pouches and a number of money bags, split open and emptied, were found in the abandoned car which was abandoned last Tuesday from a private garage in Minneapolis.

HARRINGTON TO BE CANDIDATE

Seeks Senatorial Indorsement From Convention Here on Saturday

P. G. Harrington, representative in the last session of the legislature, today announced his candidacy for the indorsement of state senator at the convention to be held at the court house Saturday. It is expected that the name of Lynn Sperry will be presented for reinforcement, and it is possible that two or three other names will be brought up.

Mr. Harrington, announcing his intention today, made public a platform of preservation of the highway commission, tax reduction and removal of the Grand Forks mill and elevator from the state's hands. Mr. Harrington said:

"Since I have decided to allow my name to be presented to the convention for this very high and responsible place it is but fair to the delegates to that convention and the people who have selected them that I declare myself on certain issues of much moment and concern at this time. My record in the House in the last session of the legislature, in opposition to House Bill 233, that sought to do away with Federal Aid and the Highway commission, is sufficient evidence as to where I will stand in the matter of road construction. The development of the vast interior of the state will be regulated largely by proper road development and motor transportation.

"The high taxes of the present call for firm action in a program of definite tax reduction, based on a statutory limitation, that will definitely limit the amount of taxes in each political division. If nominated and elected, very active and firm consideration will be given toward the accomplishment of this much needed regulation.

"I have never warmed to the proposition of State owned industry. I am unable to believe that the Grand Forks Mill and Elevator, no matter how far the administration may endeavor to remove it from political influence, can escape that influence, and being subject to that influence it cannot receive the same efficient management it would if privately owned. I am in favor of it being removed from state care at the earliest advisable hour."

POPULATION TO SOLVE TAX PROBLEM

J. M. Deane, state immigration officer, brought before the board of directors of the Bismarck Chamber of Commerce, the problem of the population of North Dakota and the great possibilities here for future growth. He declared there was enough room here to sustain a population of 15 million and that a farm of 20 acres could be given to each of more than two million farmers.

Contrasting this to the present population of 600,000, he declared that the problem of high taxes would be solved with the advent of more settlers.

Deane, in an address of 15 minutes, pointed out the fact that the present population of North Dakota is only one-tenth of what it could be.

JOHNSON URGED FOR 2ND PLACE ON G.O.P. TICKET

California Senator Suggested in Some Quarters as Co-
lidge Running Mate

DEMOCRATS CONFUSED

Less Certain About Candidate
Than Republicans as Convention Approaches

Washington, April 16: The Republican presidential situation seems to be rapidly clearing up and the confusion in the Democratic opposition increasing.

With the nomination of Mr. Coolidge practically ready for delivery by the Cleveland convention, Republican leaders are moving toward the construction of a platform. There is little dispute as to the prevailing party platform that the quest for a second ticket to complete a balanced ticket will not prove difficult.

Democratic thought and discussion is drifting along in haphazard style.
The relative chance of Governor
Smith, Senator Glass, Underwood,
Kilgore, Robinson and former Vice President Davis provide much interest but little illumination of value in speculating as to the outcome at the New York convention.

John A. Suggested As Mate
Some of the Republican leaders are anxiously expecting the announcement that Hiram Johnson has declined his fight for the presidential nomination are urging the order to him of the second place on the Coolidge ticket. A great number of others are equally pronounced in the opinion that California's Liberal forfeited any claim on his party. Mr.
Johnson himself presents a characteristically bold front and declares he will be the body and not the tail of the Republican kite.

Party leaders who want to see Harvey at Cleveland are urging Mr.
Johnson to board the Coolidge team as it flashes by him. They believe it will preserve the wisdom of such advice before the California primary. May 6. Leaders who are counseling his withdrawal from the presidential contest express the opinion that if Mr. Johnson does not get out of the way he is likely to be run down in his own state. He and his friends scoff at such a suggestion.
He apparently is determined to accept the challenge of Mr. Coolidge's supporters for a test in the Golden Gate state.

May Start Spirited Row
Mr. Johnson's supporters argue that if he entertained any doubt as to the desirability of his fellow citizens regarding their presidential preference he would certainly not invite a greater rebuke than has already been administered by the party voters in McGowan, Illinois and Nebraska where the California senator believed he would be endorsed.

The movement to draw him into the Coolidge camp with an offer of the vice presidency is certain to provoke a spirited row. The senator's failure to vote for the exclusion of Mr. Newberry and his action in supporting the resolution advising Mr.
Coolidge to demand the resignation of Mr. Denby, unquestionably has injured the standing of Mr. Johnson among party leaders. Any movement to confer the vice presidential nomination on him would therefore result in a division in the party.

Coolidge Would Accept Him?
So far as the President is concerned he is said to take a philosophical view of the situation provoked by Mr. Johnson's opposition and to see nothing reprehensible in it. In other words, it is quite probable that if the party leaders decide Mr. Johnson should be offered the place the President would accept him as a running mate.

800 ROTARIANS ARE EXPECTED IN CONFERENCE

L. L. Conklin, General Chairman, Tells Rotarians of Descent to be Made

MANY WOMEN COMING

Rotarians 800 strong will descend upon Bismarck next week according to best figures obtainable. Fred L.
Conklin, general conference committee chairman, told Rotarians today at their regular noon luncheon at the Wickenburg hotel. Plans for entertaining the Ninth District Rotarians April 24-25 are well underway and some novel stunts the nature of which is being guarded with greatest secrecy will enliven the more serious side of the gathering.

Many Rotary Anns will be here also and come special entertainment is being arranged for these including a tea and possibly an automobile tour of the city. Kiwanians have offered their cooperation in providing automobiles and everywhere the best spirit of cooperation on the part of all other civic bodies such as the Lions and Association of Commerce has been given.

Mr. Conklin today urged every citizen to assist in making the conference a success by extending a special brand of hospitality to every visitor.
It is no small undertaking for a city of Bismarck's size to entertain such a gathering. No city of this size has yet entertained the Ninth district which comprises Minnesota, one club in Wisconsin and North Dakota.

The House chamber is being transformed into a great banquet and ball room. A stage has been erected for the performance. Clubs are bringing quart and file corps, some ever will have huggies but few are dividing their stunts.

Many in Pullmans
Fifteen of more Pullmans will be packed in the local railway yards to care for those unable to secure other accommodations. Several privates will run into Bismarck and Rotarians are planning stunts on the train en route.

Deh Simpson's publicity has been effective and his circus poster has provoked some telling comebacks.
The St. Paul Rotary club pictures the conference in their weekly organ as promising to be one continuous round of pleasure.

Last evening the young ladies named as hostesses met and received instructions. Most clubs are planning special costumes for their hostesses. Pictures of these hostesses have been featured in the press of the various cities.

The program committee has been especially active in lining up a program that will measure up, if not exceed those of past conferences.
This program will be released for publication soon.

HAUGEN BILL IS AMENDED IN COMMITTEE

Sinclair of North Dakota For Amendment; Author of Bill Against It

Washington, April 17.—The script provision was eliminated from the McNary-Haugen agricultural export bill by the House agricultural committee and a modification offered by Representative Rubey, Democrat, Missouri, was adopted 11 to 9.

As the bill stood before the adoption of the Rubey amendment, farmers selling grain to the government corporation which would be set up to sell surplus abroad would have received in part payment script which would have been redeemed in proportion to the amount available as a result of foreign sales.

Under the Rubey amendment, after determining the ratio price for grain, the corporation would be required to estimate the probable loss it would sustain in marketing and the cost involved, deduct this amount from the ratio price and pay the farmer cash for all of his products.

Proponents of the amendment contended that little if any of the script would have been redeemed and that the farmer would have had little to gain by accepting it.

On the other hand those opposed to the amendment said there was strong probability of farmers realizing considerable money from the script feature.

Eight Democrats and Representatives Vought, Wisconsin; Sinclair, North Dakota; and Parke, New York, Republicans, supported the Rubey amendment while eight Republicans opposed it.

Later Mr. Haugen said the amendment "greatly weakens the bill" while committee members generally agreed it was by far the most drastic yet attached to the measure. Mr. Haugen said a determined effort would be made if the bill comes to a vote in the House to restore the original provision on the floor.

Minot Sends Big Delegation To Rotary Here

Minot Rotary Club is sending a delegation to the Bismarck Conference according to advice from James S. Milloy, chairman of the "On-To-Bismarck" committee. Minoters are coming by car and will be gaily attired in "Why Not Minot" uniforms and will be accompanied by the Minot Rotary Club Drum Corp. The cars will also be appropriately decorated with Rotary colors.

The Minot delegation is making a four day trip to Bismarck leaving Minot at 10 a. m. Wednesday, April 23 and arriving home again at 5:00 p. m. Saturday, April 26. The trip to Bismarck will be made by Velva, Russ and Turtle Lake while returning the Minoters will go by Underwood and Max. Stops will be made at every town along the way and Minot speakers will explain what Rotary is and will give a demonstration of Rotary Club singing. Rotarian John Howard will lead the Minot singers and the regular conference songs as well as Minot Rotary Club songs will be sung. The Minot club is publishing a special issue of the Prairie Flower, the club's paper, to be distributed on the trip.

There will be no women in the Minot delegation except Miss Nora Pauchaid, the Minot young lady who has just completed a season as 2nd

OBSERVANCE OF LENTEN SEASON MARKED HERE

Special Services Are Announced in Many of the Bismarck Churches

PRECEDING SUNDAY

Holy Communion will be observed in the First Presbyterian church on Good Friday evening at 7:30. All members of the church are expected to be present and all others are invited most cordially to attend these services. All new members of the church and especially the boys and girls who will join the church on Easter are urged to partake of their first communion.

Mr. Humphreys and Mr. Halverson will sing Stainer's "Crucifixion." It has been composed for the Passion Week and the cantata, which is a short oratorio, will require about twenty minutes for rendering.

The session of the church will meet at 7:00 o'clock.

THREE HOURS DEVOTION
Tomorrow afternoon from 12 to 3 p. m., solemn three hours devotion will be observed in the church. The Rev. C. F. Strutz, Rev. Dr. Halfyard, and Rev. L. R. Johnson will assist in the meditations of the "Seven Words." This service is for all who may care to attend.

BISHOP HERE
The Right Rev. John Paynter Tyler will make his annual visitation to St. George's church this evening, and deliver a sermon and confirm a class which have been receiving instructions from the Rector for some time, previous to confirmation.

Following these services the Bishop will meet with the Rector and Vestry in the Parish House. The confirmation class is asked to meet at 7:45 in the Parish House.

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH
Lenten services will be observed in the First Lutheran church with the following services:
Holy Communion this evening at 8 o'clock.
Good Friday services at 8 p. m. Special music by the choir at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend each of the services.

PASSION WEEK SERVICES
Special services observing Passion Week and preceding the celebration of Easter took place in St. Mary's church this morning.

HEARING RESTORED OFTEN IN 24 HOURS

Amazing Results Secured in One Day by Use of K-17, Formerly Known as Rattle Snake Oil.

Deafness and Head Noises need not be dreaded any longer since the discovery of a widely known physician. Now it is possible for some of the most obstinate cases of deafness to be relieved in a day's time by the application of "K-17" prescription, formerly known as Rattle Snake Oil. This treatment is meeting with wide success all over the country.

Mr. D. Dey, a Nebraska resident, 67 years old, says, "I have used the treatment for only two weeks and my hearing is restored perfectly. The relief was almost instantaneous and now the head noises have disappeared. My entire life, a case of many years' standing, is improving wonderfully."

Fred McIntyre, a Kansas resident, says, "I have used K-17 for two weeks and can hear a watch tick. It has almost entirely removed all evidences of my deafness."

Head Noises Stopped
Henry Verten, a Wisconsin resident, says: "I have used K-17 for only ten days and my head noises have stopped entirely and my hearing has shown a wonderful improvement."

Hears Clock Tick
Frank Quinn, of Mississippi, says: "Before I used K-17 I had not heard the clock tick in a long time. And after I had taken the treatment two days I could lay in bed and hear the clock tick plainly."

D. E. Bryant, of Georgia, says: "I began using K-17 on Monday and on Saturday of the same week I was hearing and have been hearing ever since. Thank you once, twice, thrice."

Head Noises Stopped in 5 Days
Mrs. D. C. Wilkins, of Mississippi, says: "K-17 has helped me wonderfully. In five days it has stopped that awful noise in my ears. I think it is a grand medicine."

Mrs. C. Roberts, of Florida, says: "I was entirely deaf in my left ear for two years and then in both. When I got your treatment I could hear in twenty-four hours."

Such amazing reports come from all over this country and foreign countries. The prescription, which is known as K-17, is easily used at home and seems to work like magic in its rapidity on people of all ages.

So confident are we that K-17 will restore your hearing quickly, and to a million more sufferers, we will send a large $2.00 treatment for only $1.00 on ten days' free trial. If the results are not satisfactory the treatment costs nothing.

Send no money—just your name and address to the Greene Laboratories, 220 Greene Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., and the treatment will be mailed at once. Use it according to the simple directions. If at the end of 10 days your hearing is not relieved, your head noises gone entirely, just send it back and your money will be refunded without question. This offer is fully guaranteed, so write today and give this wonderful compound a trial.

This evening special lamentation devotions will be held and tomorrow morning the unveiling of the cross will take place following a high mass at the same hour.

TRINITY ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH

Owing to the absence of Rev. Monsen there will be no divine services in the church during Holy Week. Easter services will be held morning and evening of Easter Sunday.

At 7:30 on the evening of Good Friday, the church chorus under the direction of Prof. L. C. Sorlien will render the beautiful cantata, "Easter Joy" and several other numbers. Everybody welcome.

Indian Girls Lose To Dawson

The local Indian girls lost to Dawson in the final game of the season which was played at the Indian school gymnasium. The Indian girls played gamely but the Dawson quint defeated them by a score of 2 to 1. The game continued to the very last, both teams fighting hard.

The Indian girls missed many chances to score both field goals and foul throws. The Dawson team employed the man on man defense which was very effective owing to the size of the players. The Indian school played a five man defense but were unable to hold the one basket that won the game for the visitors.

Both teams intend having a track team in the field this spring so it is probable the girls will meet again in the track meet.

School pupils enrolled in the United States at the last census numbered 21,578,316.

ALL life is a game of hide and seek. The most valuable secrets of Nature are hidden. And man, to live, must seek and find them.

To build health and nourish the body it is necessary to choose those foods which contain the hidden, but essential elements that create energy and strength.

It has been found by health authorities that the food element, Dextrose, is essential for supplying warmth to the blood and vigor to the nerve and tissue cells. And it is the high percentage of Dextrose in Karo which makes it an especially important food for growing children. Every youngster delights in the delicious flavor of Karo, The Blue Label and Red Label Karo are equally nutritious.

DIPHTHERIA IN OLIVER COUNTY CAUSES DEATH

Center, in Oliver county, perhaps the only county in the state without a doctor, is taking precautions against a spread of an epidemic of black diphtheria. Two children have died. Dr. Fischer of New Salem was called and is said to have immunized many people, expressing belief that the threatened epidemic would be averted. Schools and public gatherings have been ordered suspended. Florence, aged 3 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Nelson, was a victim of black diphtheria, according to reports, and when the father returned from digging a grave for the child he is said to have found a five-year-old daughter dead of the same disease.

WEATHER FORECASTS

For Bismarck and vicinity: Fair tonight and Friday. Not much change in temperature.

For North Dakota: Fair tonight and Friday. Not much change in temperature.

GENERAL WEATHER CONDITIONS
The low pressure area is centered over the upper Mississippi Valley this morning and precipitation occurred from the middle and southern Rocky Mountain region northeastward over the Plains States, Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region during the past 24 hours. The precipitation has ended, however, over the West and generally fair weather prevails today from the Mississippi Valley westward to the Pacific Coast. Temperatures have dropped at most places over the Plains States and Mississippi Valley and minimum temperatures this morning were below freezing at most places in the middle and northern Plains States.

ROAD CONDITIONS

Reports indicate that roads are blocked more or less over the northeastern portion of the State, range from bad to poor over the eastern and central portions and from poor to fair over the western portion.

MANY APPEALS FOR TICKETS BEING MADE

All Sorts of Pleas Roll Into Cleveland For Seats in The Convention

Cleveland, April 17.—Varied appeals for tickets to the Republican national convention, to open here June 10, are deluging headquarters of the local convention committee. They are referred to the national committee at Washington. Probably the briefest and most sanguine of laws:

Please mail to me in the enclosed stamped envelope a ticket to the Republican convention.

The last $125 out for governor, was the commanding argument huddled at a Cleveland hotel by one applicant for tickets.

You will probably recall," urged another, "having met me when you were in Los Angeles during your campaign. We were together on the bandstand from which you spoke that evening.

From the time I was large enough to carry a drum, a fourth proclaimed, "I have done my part. I am a thirty-second degree Mason, have a wife who was reared a Republican and three sons whom I expect to vote the Republican ticket. Mr. X, in the bank here, is a very good friend of mine.

I have been an ardent Republican, as are all my relatives, is a typical argument. Similar pleas follow:

I have nine children and every one (doubtless underscored) votes the Republican ticket.

I have never attended a convention of the party for which I have always worked and supported, to say nothing of my father and four brothers, and is many sisters.

How Money Is Raised
The task of raising for Cleveland citizens $125,000 for expenses of the Republican national convention, which Cleveland will entertain the week of June 10, has fallen in a large measure to the son of a local carpenter. He is Thomas E. Monks, a banker, who was chosen treasurer of the local committee on convention arrangements.

It is refreshing to find a man like Mr. Monks in politics," said Joseph Ward, a bank official who has long been closely associated with Mr. Monks. "Honesty means more than merely not being dishonest. He has his positive attributes. He lets others take credit for what he has done; he constantly renders services without expecting return." Mr. Monks plays golf, but it is said that his real hobby is business.

DESPERATE MAN IS HELD

Turned Over by Canadian Authorities

Bowbells, N. D., April 17.—Eugene Hitchcock, who gives his home as Frankfort, Ill., is being held in the custody of county authorities here pending a medical examination and a review of his past life, following a "roughhouse" exhibition which he staged in the detention room of the Canadian immigration offices, at North Portal, last Saturday. Sheriff Gunwaldson of Bowbells, went to North Portal and took Hitchcock in to custody when it became known that the Canadian authorities intended to deport him.

Hitchcock arrived at the border on a Soo train Saturday morning. His actions looked suspicious to Corporal Fryett, R. C. M. P., who met him on the depot platform, and on consultation with Immigration Officer Gerrie, it was decided to search Hitchcock, which resulted in the finding of a fully loaded .38 calibre revolver and a large butcher knife. He was placed in the detention room to await deportation to the United States and his weapons were delivered to the Canadian customs authorities. Shortly after this he commenced the destruction of property. He set up a desperate fight but was overpowered and handcuffed by Corporal Fryett and Immigration Officer Gerrie and was later placed in the steel cell at the R. C. M. P. barracks. The authorities of North Portal, N. D., do not think it advisable that Hitchcock be at large in the United States after deportation.

EASTER NECKWEAR

You may know the fastidious woman by her neckwear. She realizes that accessories form a part of her costume to which must be given particular attention and she chooses with care and discrimination. Keeping these facts in mind, we have made a splendid selection of neckwear suitable for Easter wear.

BRILLIANT 'KERCHIEFS

There are as many uses of the Hanky as there are hankies themselves. But quite the smartest use of all is to have one saucily flying from the pocket of your tailored suit. They are shown here in bright spring colors.

GLOVES

Gloves with frills add modishness to the costume, and the frills appear in the gauntlet length glove. Many unusual styles are featured in these shorter gloves which are essential to the Easter dress accessories.

They are priced very moderately.

HANDBAGS

A handbag pouch shape of moire or fine leather will be a smart compliment to any tailored suit ensemble. It may be chosen here in black or the new spring shades.

The Prices range from $2.48
up.

THE NEW MAH JONG SAILOR

There is nothing smarter to wear with the Spring tailormen than one of these new Mah Jong sailors. We have several new versions of these class hat styles now on display in millinery section.

WHEAT SOME FIRMER TODAY

Uncertainty of McNary-Haugen Measure Affects Trading

Chicago, April 17.—Wheat prices trended upward today in the early dealing, traders showing considerable disposition to avoid the selling side until it is determined whether the McNary-Haugen measure will become a law. According to one authority if the bill were enacted an attempt would likely be made to establish $1.25, and possibly $1.50, a bushel as the ratio price on wheat. Commission houses buying was of fair volume. The opening which varied from unchanged figures to 1/2 to 1/4 higher, May $1.02 1/2 to 1/4 and July $1.01 1/2 to 1/4 was followed by a little advance all around. Subsequently complaints of lack of moisture in the spring wheat states gave an additional impulse to buying. Besides delay to seeding in Canada attracted notice. The close was unsettled, one-half to 1/4 higher, May $1.02 1/2 to 1/4 and July $1.01 1/2 to 1/4.

DIPHTHERIA IN OLIVER COUNTY CAUSES DEATH

Center, in Oliver county, perhaps the only county in the state without a doctor, is taking precautions against a spread of an epidemic of black diphtheria. Two children have died. Dr. Fischer of New Salem was called and is said to have immunized many people, expressing belief that the threatened epidemic would be averted. Schools and public gatherings have been ordered suspended. Florence, aged 3 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Nelson, was a victim of black diphtheria, according to reports, and when the father returned from digging a grave for the child he is said to have found a five-year-old daughter dead of the same disease.

WEBB BROTHERS

"MERCHANDISE OF MERIT ONLY"

Accessories--

That Add to the Smartness of Your Easter Costume

BLOUSES

They're entirely new and very lovely, these new Spring blouses. Pursuing the vogue for mannish modes many are fashioned along these lines and are especially designed to wear with the new boyish suits.

The Prices range from $3.95 up.

EASTER NECKWEAR

You may know the fastidious woman by her neckwear. She realizes that accessories form a part of her costume to which must be given particular attention and she chooses with care and discrimination. Keeping these facts in mind, we have made a splendid selection of neckwear suitable for Easter wear.

BRILLIANT 'KERCHIEFS

There are as many uses of the Hanky as there are hankies themselves. But quite the smartest use of all is to have one saucily flying from the pocket of your tailored suit. They are shown here in bright spring colors.

GLOVES

Gloves with frills add modishness to the costume, and the frills appear in the gauntlet length glove. Many unusual styles are featured in these shorter gloves which are essential to the Easter dress accessories.

They are priced very moderately.

HANDBAGS

A handbag, pouch shape of moire or fine leather will be a smart complement to any tailored suit ensemble. It may be chosen here in black or the new spring shades.

The Prices range from $2.48 up.

THE NEW MAH JONG SAILOR

There certainly is nothing smarter to wear with the Spring tailor than one of these new Mah Jong sailors. We have several new versions of these chic hat styles now on display in millinery section.

BLIND DRAMATIST TO READ

Grand Forks, N. D., April 17.—Under the auspices of the First Lutheran church choir, Walter Clarence Gran, blind dramatist student of theology in St. Paul, will appear here next Tuesday. Mr. Gran is reported to be a reader of note. He spends his vacation periods on tours.

WHEAT SOME FIRMER TODAY

Uncertainty of McNary-Haugen Measure Affects Trading

Chicago, April 17.—Wheat prices tended upward today in the early dealings, traders showing considerable disposition to avoid the selling until it is determined whether the McNary-Haugen measure will become a law. According to one authority if the bill were enacted an attempt would likely be made to establish $1.25 and possibly $1.50 a bushel as the ratio price on wheat. Commission house buying was of fair volume. The opening which varied from unchanged figures to 1c to 1 1/2c higher, May $1.02 1/2 to 1.03 and July $1.04 1/2 to 1.05 was followed by a little advance all around.

Subsequently complaints of lack of moisture in the spring wheat states gave an additional impulse to buying. Besides delay to seeding in Canada attracted notice. The close was unsettled, one-half to 5c net higher, May $1.02 1/2 to $1.03 and July $1.05 1/2.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

Hide and Seek

ALL life is a game of hide and seek. The most valuable secrets of Nature are hidden. And man, to live, must seek and find them.

To build health and nourish the body it is necessary to choose those foods which contain the hidden, but essential elements that create energy and strength.

It has been found by health authorities that the food element, Dextrose, is essential for supplying warmth to the blood and vigor to the nerve and tissue cells. And it is the high percentage of Dextrose in Karo which makes it an especially important food for growing children. Every youngster delights in the delicious flavor of Karo, The Blue Label and Red Label Karo are equally nutritious.

THE DIVERSIFICATION LOANS

The plan of the Agricultural Credit Corporation for direct loans of $1,000,000 to aid farmers in diversifying through purchase of livestock is an experiment in a limited degree. The value of mixed farming as compared to a one-crop gamble has been fully illustrated in homely stories of success of pioneers in diversification in various sections of North Dakota. There is ample evidence at hand to prove disaster lurks in one-crop farming. The proposed loans up to $1,000,000 will be experimental in the sense that it will be shown whether or not a man may suddenly change from one-crop methods to a diversified basis and succeed. Most of those who have succeeded have "grown into" the changed system. The loans also will be experimental from the standpoint of the ability of outside agency through huge resources to change the course of agriculture to a considerable degree in a large section.

Carefully handled, as undoubtedly this business will be, it will provide the greatest and most exacting test ever applied to agriculture in the Northwest. It will necessarily follow that careful records will be kept of the operating of the farmers who desire to accept the loans proffered. It will offer a test of their ability under present conditions and present prices to profit through the methods prescribed, and perhaps to recoup losses of the past. It will bring into action the services of expert agriculturists, for it is only natural that the loan agency will expect the county agents and others who are classed as experts to closely follow if not supervise what the agency calls an experiment.

The effect upon the Northwest of the system cannot be estimated or forecast. If the great majority of those accepting loans prove conclusively that they can profit under the new system whereas they could not succeed under the old system of grain farming, the record will be so convincing that a metamorphosis over night may be expected in Northwestern agricultural methods. If the experiment is a failure, the effect will be depressing. In any event, within a few years, the test is likely to be absolute and decisive. Most people who have watched the course of agrarian development in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana will welcome the new policy of the Agricultural Credit Corporation. It will meet a pressing need, for there are official records in the state capital which show that thousands of farmers in various parts of the state expected to go into diversified farming through loans proposed in the Norbeck-Burness bill. They will welcome such aid from the credit agency. The policy reflects the big vision of the directors of the Agricultural Credit Corporation, their faith in the Northwest and their determination to prove that their faith is well founded.

OVER THE HILLS LIES WHAT?

The radio industry is beginning to talk about the desirability of "fewer broadcasting stations and better-grade concerts." It's a bit early in the game for that. The average radio bug doesn't want better concerts. What he wants is DISTANCE.

In the east the radio bug's goal is to hear the Pacific Coast.

Ninety-nine out of 100 radio bugs would rather "listen in on" China than hear a local concert by the greatest musicians that ever lived.

This is evidenced by the wide-spread desire to tune out the local station and get out-of-town stuff. No matter how fine the local program is, the average listener prefers a concert from 1000 or more miles away, even though inferior.

All this demonstrates that most people are interested in radio, not for the entertainment that comes flashing through the ether, but because radio is a mysterious invention with unknown and startling sensational possibilities.

If you talk by telephone from New York to San Francisco, your voice travels through 740 tons of copper. Isn't this after all, as remarkable as hearing the same distance through the air?

The answer is that the telephone is an old device, and for that reason has lost its glamour. We tire quickly of the old. How long until radio also will be "old stuff"? On that unknown date, concerts will be the goal rather than distance reception.

It's human nature to respond to the lure of the far-away. No matter how beautiful may be the valley we are in, we're sure that something better lies on the other side of the hills.

Accordingly, the farm boy wants to move to the city. The city boy thinks he would do better in a distant community. As true of men, young and middle-aged, as of boys. The other fellow's job looks more attractive than ours.

We are a nation of rainbow chasers. In our blood flows the spirit of the vagabond. Crafty nature makes us so—to spread population over our tremendous territory and develop the out-of-the-way parts of the country.

SUICIDES

The Save-a-Life-League is increasing its membership rapidly. It was founded eight years ago by Rev. Dr. Harry Marsh Warren. In a sermon he urged people, who intended to commit suicide, to write or visit him first. Gradually a clearing house for misery was built up. League members keep their eyes open for unfortunate in wretched situations that might tempt them to take their lives.

Twelve thousand Americans commit suicide a year. Dr. Warren says he finds that a promise to think it over until tomorrow usually gives the despondent a new grip on life. This is true of nearly all situations that seem hopeless at the time. Wait and think!

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not be the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

LIBELING A TERRITORY

There are more ways of libeling a territory than telling direct falsehoods about it. False impressions may be created without the making of statements which are themselves false and if the statements are embellished with pictures carefully chosen and suitably displayed, the result may be utterly false and exceedingly injurious.

The Saturday Evening Post has libeled that section of the northwest including the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana in the publication of an article by Garret entitled "That Pain in Our Northwest." In that article Mr. Garret discusses the economic situation in this section, and deals with many phases of the subject, including the methods employed in the agricultural industry, expansion of credit, banking methods and bank failures, together with the enterprises, more or less socialistic in their nature, which have been inaugurated, and a large number of which have failed.

The largest picture used with the article is a very good one of the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks, which Mr. Garret says "they" built and left unfinished. Next comes a picture of the dilapidated Equity packing plant at Fargo, with a statement of its loss of $1,300,000 in seven months, followed by a choice assortment of pictures of dilapidated farms, abandoned or to be abandoned, and of bank buildings which are mostly shacks.

It is assumed that Mr. Garret wished to convey the truth to his readers, and he probably had in mind the fact that the political regime which started the state mill and elevator left it unfinished. The otherwise uninformed reader, however, will gain the impression that the plant is still unfinished, whereas for a year it has been grinding and selling flour up to its capacity of 2,000 barrels a day. The impression left on the reader is false.

The Saturday Evening Post boasts of a circulation of more than two million copies a week. It is what is known as a popular magazine, that is, its material is so selected as to make an appeal to the widest possible variety of readers. It is safe to say that while all of its articles are read with interest by many persons, few read them all. Such an article as that by Mr. Garret will be read carefully by a good many people. But an immensely greater number will look at the pictures and skim hurriedly through the text so as to get what they conceive to be the gist of it, and then quit.

Because of this the impression created by the article will in the main be false, and it will be unwarrantably injurious to the Northwest. Immense numbers of people will accept as typical of the three states bankrupt institutions, abandoned farms and banks closed by wholesale.

The trouble does not lie so much in the fact that many of the statements made are extreme, nor can it be defended on the ground that many of the statements are correct. The injury and the wrong lies in the fact that such spectacular use is made of certain extreme conditions that the extreme is accepted as the usual.

The northwest has suffered economic adversity, and many of its people have shown political unwisdom. Credit has been used too freely, banks have been too numerous, and weak banks have failed. It is useless to attempt to gloss over those facts. But to emphasize these facts in the manner in which they are emphasized in the Post article is to impair the reputation of a great territory in a manner essentially untruthful and utterly unwarrantable.—Grand Forks Herald.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The next place in Once-Upon-a-Time Land that Mister Muggs took the Twins in his magic automobile was to see Snow White.

The prince had built her a glass castle and there they had lived happily ever after—just as the story said.

They crossed seven islands and a little fairy ferryman took them across seven lakes, and there stood Snow White's castle.

Glad to see them! Why, she nearly fell out of her window with joy when she saw them. Why, for ever since her wicked stepmother had died the prince had been very, very particular about strangers coming to the castle, and Snow White was getting lonely, as the prince was out hunting so much.

She ran downstairs and let them in herself before the servants could say that nobody was at home to callers that day.

"How do you do?" she said in a silvery voice, kissing everybody, even ugly little Mister Muggs, who had to hold onto a chair he was so surprised.

"Oh, thank you!" cried Snow White. "There is just one thing! I would like to know if my seven dwarfs are well. They live in your mountains and they work hard all day. I am so afraid they won't have anybody to cook for them when they come home tired at night—or make their beds—or mend their clothes."

"Would you like to see them?" asked Mister Muggs. "Because my magic automobile will take you there in a jiffy, if you do."

"I don't know what a jiffy is," laughed Snow White. "But if it isn't too long, I'll go. The prince won't

AWFUL RULING BY JUDGE

In Los Angeles a man has been sent to jail for two years because he swore falsely to the age of a bride. So all four of them got into the tiny car and away it started for the blue mountains in the distance. By and by they came to the house where the dwarfs lived. They knocked on the door, but as nobody came, they pushed it open and stepped in.

"Why, it looks exactly the same!" cried Snow White. Then she stopped suddenly, for there on the table were the unwashed breakfast dishes. The bedroom was all in disorder and the seven little beds were completely topsy-turvy. The clothes that hung on the pegs needed mending and all the floors needed a good scrubbing.

"Let's get to work and fix it up for them," cried Nancy.

"A fine idea!" declared Mister Muggs. "It is only 10 o'clock and we have all day."

And when the dwarfs came back the little house looked as though fairies had been at it—as indeed they had. But the visitors had gone, for the dwarfs were shy and afraid of company.

"I'm coming every week and look after them," said Snow White. "I'm sure the prince won't mind."

BANKER-FARMER CO-OPERATION

Many Conferences and Practical Measures Are Bettering Farm Situation From Ground Up.

The merits of intermediate and long-time agricultural credit now available, organization and co-operation of producers for balanced production, and orderly marketing are the chief topics of discussion at many banker-farmer conferences being held in various parts of the country with the assistance of the American Bankers Association.

At a Texas Agricultural College meeting representatives of agricultural and livestock associations agreed that there is no such thing as over-production, and that every increase in production should raise the standard of living higher. They saw need for the organization of producers for balanced production and orderly marketing to relieve the stress in agriculture, with credit provided of sufficient time to cover farm and ranch turnover.

Legislation Not Wanted.
Further legislative action was not considered appropriate. In fact, there was actual opposition to further government action to assist in economic adjustment, everyone there being in complete accord that conditions were propitious as far as existing institutions were concerned to raise the farmer and stockman to a proper economic place in the business world. The establishment of the Intermediate Credit Bank was declared to be the last step in the provision of necessary agencies of credit, while sufficient opportunity for co-operation exists in present organizations.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association was described as a means of co-operation between bankers and farmers and its work explained in bringing bankers in more intimate touch with the actual problems of the farm to develop increased helpfulness.

Banker-farmer conferences have been arranged by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association at the state agricultural colleges in Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Iowa, Illinois, South Dakota, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming. The Oregon Bankers Association is engaged in the promotion of conferences in an effort to bring about diversified agriculture.

Practical Aid by Banks

Officials of a large Astoria, Oregon, bank are taking an active part in making farming a real business in their community. A group of dairymen wanted to borrow sufficient money to buy a carload of purebred Guernseys. There were practically no purebred Guernseys in the county. These dairymen had little money so they took the matter up with this bank. A letter of credit for $16,000 was given to them immediately on a joint note.

It meant the starting of purebred Guernsey herds in the county and most of the dairymen who purchased the animals have sold enough of the offspring to pay for the original investment. One of the dairymen says: "Had the bank not been liberal in making this loan, the original importation could not have been made and the county would not have at this time the reputation it now has as one of the Guernsey centers of the Northwest."

AGRICULTURE

More than ten millions of our people are actively engaged in agriculture. They comprise 26.3 per cent of all persons over ten years of age engaged in a gainful occupation. Our farms represent more than one-fourth of our total national wealth. The value of our farm products in a single year is 40 per cent of our manufactured products—and the latter include many finished items which left the farm as raw material. Thirty-one per cent of all our exports in 1921, in terms of value, were food products of the farm.—Walter W. Head, President American Bankers Association.

IS IT LIVING?

You can rise up in the morning and prepare yourself for work. You can bow onto the grindstone with no time for play or shirk. You may turn the wheels of business in a full successful flight till you feel you've done a day full when you close your desk at night.

You may spend a day at pleasure, you may fish or sail or row. You may hop upon a street car, to the bathing beaches go. You may seek a shady hillside and, secluded, rest in peace. You may travel into dreamland, where your cares and worries cease.

You may sit around the fireside in your home and with your wife. You may gather round the table and enjoy your married life. You may visit movie houses; now and then attend a show. You may pick your after-work hours to be up and on the go.

But, take all these things of living. And treat up as part of life; they're a full-fledged combination of real happiness and strife. Then, consider: IS IT LIVING? Reconsider—am I right, when I say no man has lived until he's kissed a child goodbye? (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are 618 colleges and universities in the United States.

DR. ELIOT'S OMISSION

Dr. Charles W. Eliot's 5-foot shelf of books has long been the standard of all that is complete and necessary in the achievement of culture, education, information and diversion.

The famous educator has recently discovered that this collection of famous volumes lacked one tiny volume that makes for complete happiness—a savings book and the famous 5-foot shelf has been lengthened to 5 feet 1/4 inches.

In announcing the new addition, Dr. Eliot expresses the hope that it will not be the least used book on the shelf and recommends its frequent use.

THE DIVERSIFICATION LOANS

The plan of the Agricultural Credit Corporation for direct loans of $1,000,000 to aid farmers in diversifying through purchase of livestock is an experiment in a limited degree. The value of mixed farming as compared to a one-crop gamble has been fully illustrated in homely stories of success of pioneers in diversification in various sections of North Dakota. There is ample evidence at hand to prove disaster lurks in one-crop farming. The proposed loans up to $1,000,000 will be experimental in the sense that it will be shown whether or not a man may suddenly change from one-crop methods to a diversified basis and succeed. Most of those who have succeeded have "grown into" the changed system. The loans also will be experimental from the standpoint of the ability of outside agency through huge resources to change the course of agriculture to a considerable degree in a large section.

Carefully handled, as undoubtedly this business will be, it will provide the greatest and most exacting test ever applied to agriculture in the Northwest. It will necessarily follow that careful records will be kept of the operating of the farmers who desire to accept the loans proffered. It will offer a test of their ability under present conditions and present prices to profit through the methods prescribed, and perhaps to recoup losses of the past. It will bring into action the services of expert agriculturists, for it is only natural that the loan agency will expect the county agents and others who are classed as experts to closely follow if not supervise what the agency calls an experiment.

The effect upon the Northwest of the system cannot be estimated or forecast. If the great majority of those accepting loans prove conclusively that they can profit under the new system whereas they could not succeed under the old system of grain farming, the record will be so convincing that a metamorphosis over night may be expected in Northwestern agricultural methods. If the experiment is a failure, the effect will be depressing. In any event, within a few years, the test is likely to be absolute and decisive. Most people who have watched the course of agrarian development in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana will welcome the new policy of the Agricultural Credit Corporation. It will meet a pressing need, for there are official records in the state capital which show that thousands of farmers in various parts of the state expected to go into diversified farming through loans proposed in the Norbeck-Burness bill. They will welcome such aid from the credit agency. The policy reflects the big vision of the directors of the Agricultural Credit Corporation, their faith in the Northwest and their determination to prove that their faith is well founded.

OVER THE HILLS LIES WHAT?

The radio industry is beginning to talk about the desirability of "fewer broadcasting stations and better-grade concerts." It's a bit early in the game for that. The average radio bug doesn't want better concerts. What he wants is DISTANCE.

In the east the radio bug's goal is to hear the Pacific Coast.

On the Pacific Coast they whirl their dials trying to pick up eastern stations.

Ninety-nine out of 100 radio bugs would rather "listen in on" China than hear a local concert by the greatest musicians that ever lived.

This is evidenced by the wide-spread desire to tune out the local station and get out-of-town stuff. No matter how fine the local program is, the average listener prefers a concert from 1000 or more miles away, even though inferior.

All this demonstrates that most people are interested in radio, not for the entertainment that comes flashing through the ether, but because radio is a mysterious invention with unknown and startling sensational possibilities.

If you talk by telephone from New York to San Francisco, your voice travels through 740 tons of copper. Isn't this after all, as remarkable as hearing the same distance through the air?

The answer is that the telephone is an old device, and for that reason has lost its glamour. We tire quickly of the old. How long until radio also will be "old stuff"? On that unknown date, concerts will be the goal rather than distance reception.

It's human nature to respond to the lure of the far-away. No matter how beautiful may be the valley we are in, we're sure that something better lies on the other side of the hills. Accordingly, the farm boy wants to move to the city. The city boy thinks he would do better in a distant community. As true of men, young and middle-aged, as of boys. The other fellow's job looks more attractive than ours.

We are a nation of rainbow chasers. In our blood flows the spirit of the vagabond. Crafty nature makes us so — to spread population over our tremendous territory and develop the out-of-the-way parts of the country.

SUICIDES

The Save-a-Life-League is increasing its membership rapidly. It was founded eight years ago by Rev. Dr. Harry Marsh Warren. In a sermon he urged people, who intended to commit suicide, to write or visit him first. Gradually a clearing house for misery was built up. League members keep their eyes open for unfortunate in wretched situations that might tempt them to take their lives.

Twelve thousand Americans commit suicide a year. Dr. Warren says he finds that a promise to think it over until tomorrow usually gives the despondent a new grip on life. This is true of nearly all situations that seem hopeless at the time. Wait and think!

LIBELING A TERRITORY

There are more ways of libeling a territory than telling direct falsehoods about it. False impressions may be created without the making of statements, which are themselves false, and if the statements are embellished with pictures carefully chosen and suitably displayed, the result may be utterly false and exceedingly injurious. The Saturday Evening Post has libeled that section of the north-west included in the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana in the publication of an article by Garret entitled "That Pain in Our Northwest." In that article the writer discusses the economic situation in this section, and deals with many phases of the subject, including the methods employed in the agricultural industry, expansion of credit, banking methods and bank failures, together with the enterprises, more or less socialistic in their nature, which have been inaugurated, and a large number of which have failed.

The largest picture used in the article is a very good one of the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks, which Mr. Garrett says "they" built and left unfinished. Next comes a picture of the ill-fated Equity packing plant at Fargo, with a statement of its loss of $1,200,000 in seven months, followed by a choice assortment of pictures of dilapidated farms, abandoned or to be abandoned, and of bank buildings which are mostly shacks.

It is assumed that Mr. Garrett wished to convey the truth to his readers, and he probably had in mind the fact that the political regime which started the state mill and elevator left it unfinished. The otherwise uninformed reader, however, will gain the impression that the plant is still unfinished, whereas for a year it has been grinding and selling flour up to its capacity of 2,000 barrels a day. The impression left on the reader is false.

The Saturday Evening Post boasts of a circulation of more than two million copies a week. It is what is known as a popular magazine, that is, its material is so selected as to make an appeal to the widest possible variety of readers. It is safe to say that while all of its articles are read with interest by many persons, few read them all. Such an article as that by Mr. Garrett will be read carefully by a good many people. But an immensely greater number will look at the pictures and skin hurriedly through the text so as to get what they conceive to be the gist of it, and then quit.

Because of this the impression created by the article will be in the main false, and it will be unwarrantably injurious to the northwest. Immense numbers of people will accept as typical of the states bankrupt institutions, abandoned farms and banks closed by wholesale.

The trouble does not lie so much in the fact that many of the statements made are extreme, nor can it be defended on the ground that many of the statements are correct. The injury and the wrong lies in the fact that such spectacular use is made of certain extreme conditions that the extreme is accepted as the usual.

The northwest has suffered economic adversity, and many of its people have shown political unwisdom. Credit has been used too freely, banks have been too numerous, and weak banks have failed. It is useless to attempt to gloss over these facts. But to emphasize these facts in the manner in which they are emphasized in the Post article is to make the reputation of the entire territory in a manner essentially untruthful and utterly unwarrantable.—Grand Forks Herald.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The next place in Once-Upon-A-Time Land that Mister Muggs took the Twins in his magic automobile was to see Snow White.

The prince had built her a glass castle and there they had lived happily ever after—just as the story said.

They crossed seven islands and a little fairy ferryman took them across seven lakes, and there stood Snow White's castle.

Glad to see them! Why, the nearly fell out of her window with joy when she saw them coming, for ever since her wicked stepmother had died the prince had been very particular about strangers coming to the castle, and Snow White was getting lonely, as the prince was out hunting so much.

She ran downstairs and let them in herself, before the servant could say that nobody was at home.

"How do you do?" she said in a silvery voice, kissing everybody, even ugly little Mister Muggs, who had to hold onto a chair he was so surprised.

"Oh, thank you!" cried Snow White. "There is just one thing I would like to know if you seven dwarfs are well. They live in your garden mountains and they work hard all day. I am so afraid they won't have anybody to cook for them when they come home tired at night—or make their beds—or mend their clothes."

"Would you like to see them?" asked Mister Muggs. "Because my magic automobile will take you there in a jiffy, if you do."

"I don't know what a jiffy is," laughed Snow White. "But if it isn't too long, I'll go. The prince won't

In Los Angeles a man has been sent to jail for two years because he swore falsely to the age of a bride. If the judge's ruling is not reversed no telling what will happen. June is coming and half the honeymoons will be spent in jail.

But let us try to see the bright side of everything. Spending the honeymoon in jail is fine training for just sitting around home, as many of the last June couples are doing now.

"Let's get to work and fix it up for them," cried Nancy. "A fine ideal," declared Mister Muggs. "It is only 10 o'clock and we have all day."

And when the dwarfs came back the little house looked as though fairies had been at it—as indeed they had. But the visitors had gone, for the dwarfs were shy and afraid of company.

"I'm coming every week and look after them," said Snow White. "I'm sure the prince won't mind." (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.) (To Be Continued)

BANKER-FARMER CO-OPERATION

Many Conferences and Practical Measures Are Bettering Farm Situation From Ground Up.

The merits of intermediate and long-time agricultural credit now available, organization and co-operation of producers for balanced production, and orderly marketing are the chief topics of discussion at many banker-farmer conferences being held in various parts of the country with the assistance of the American Bankers Association. At a Texas Agricultural College meeting representatives of agricultural and livestock associations agreed that there is no such thing as over-production, and that every increase in production would raise the standard of living higher. They saw need for the organization of producers for balanced production and orderly marketing to relieve the stress in agriculture, with credit provided of sufficient time to cover farm and ranch turnover.

Legislation Not Wanted. Further legislative action was not considered appropriate. In fact, there was actual opposition to further government action to assist in economic adjustment, everyone there being in complete accord that conditions were propitious as far as existing institutions were concerned to raise the farmer and stockman to a proper economic place in the business world. The establishment of the Intermediate Credit Bank was declared to be the last step in the provision of necessary agencies of credit, while sufficient opportunity for co-operation exists in present organizations.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association was described as a means of co-operation between bankers and farmers and its work explained in bringing bankers in more intimate touch with the actual problems of the farm to develop increased help.

Banker-farmer conferences have been arranged by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association at the state agricultural colleges in Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Iowa, Illinois, South Dakota, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming. The Oregon Bankers Association is engaged in the promotion of conferences in an effort to bring about diversified agriculture.

Practical Aid by Banks. Officials of a large Astoria, Oregon, bank are taking an active part in making farming a real business to their community. A group of dairymen wanted to borrow sufficient money to buy a carload of purebred Guernseys. There were practically no purebred Guernseys in the county. These dairymen had little money so they took the matter up with this bank. A letter of credit for $16,000 was given to them immediately on a joint note.

It meant the starting of purebred Guernsey herds in the county and most of the dairymen who purchased the animals have sold enough of the offspring to pay for the original investment. One of the dairymen says: "Had the bank not been liberal in making this loan, the original importation could not have been made and the county would not have at this time the reputation it now has as one of the Guernsey centers of the Northwest."

AGRICULTURE

More than ten millions of our people are actively engaged in agriculture. They comprise 26.3 per cent of all persons over ten years of age engaged in a gainful occupation. Our farms represent more than one-fourth of our total national wealth. The value of our farm products in a single year is 40 per cent of that of our manufactured products—and the latter include many finished items which left the farm as raw material. Thirty-one per cent of all our exports in 1921, in terms of value, were food products of the farm.—Walter W. Head, President American Bankers Association.

IS IT LIVING?

You can rise up in the morning and prepare yourself for work. You can bow down the grindstone with no time for play or shirk. You may turn the wheels of business in a full successful flight till you feel you've done a day full when you close your desk at night.

You may spend a day at pleasure, you may fish or sail or row. You may hop upon a street car, to the bathing beaches go. You may seek a shady hillside and, secluded, rest in peace. You may travel in dreamland, where your cares and worries cease.

You may sit around the fireside in your home and with your wife. You may gather 'round the table and enjoy your married life. You may visit movie houses; now and then at end a show. You may pick your after-work hours to be up and on the go.

But, take all these things of living. Add them up as part of life; they're a full-fledged combination of real happiness and strife. Then, consider: IS it living? Reconsider—am I right, when I say no man has lived until he's kissed a child goodnight? (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

SEEK TO MATCH BAT KRAUSE IN CITY APRIL 24

Local Promoters Want To Bring Bud Logan or Bates
Cunningham Here

"Bat" Krause, Fargo boxer now touring in Bismarck, will meet either Bud Logan or Bates Cunningham in a 10-round boxing match here on April 24 or April 25, in all probability.

Krause said today that he had agreed with local promoters to box anyone they may select for a bout. Krause wanted Buddy McDonald of St. Paul brought here for the bout but Buddy is signed up for at least two months and will not be able to come. Bates Cunningham was urged by McDonald's manager, Cunningham works with McDonald and is said to be a fast writer. Logan has been sought but the price he has set thus far has been too light, and local promoters also have sought to get Russell LeRoy of Fargo in the ring with Krause, but LeRoy doesn't seem anxious for it without an exceptionally big guarantee. Johnny Knauff is another opponent sought for Krause, but Knauff says he has retired.

Krause has not been seen in action here for two years. During this time he has improved remarkably, now being one of the best boxers of his class in the Northwest.

SISLER AGAIN STARS IN PLAY

Great First Sacker Seems Fully Recovered

Chicago, April 17.—George Sisler, manager of the St. Louis Americans, who was out of baseball last year because of defective vision, starred again yesterday in his second game, but the Chicago White Sox won 3 to 2 victory over the Browns in Chicago. Shortstop Gerber drew the first base out of the season, being put out of the game by umpire Owen.

Old-timers fared well in the second day's play. Jack Quinn pitched the Boston Red Sox to victory, and Eddie Remmel went well for the Philadelphia Athletics. In the Nationals Ruhe Marquard hurled Boston to victory and Grover Alexander started the game the Cubs won.

Billy Evans Says

"Slam-Bang baseball is going to stick around for some time regardless of all this talk about a revival of base running and strategy," so says Larry Lajoie, once the king of them all.

"There is nothing sweeter than the ring of the base hit to the player," continued Larry.

"There you have the best possible reason why the slugging style of ball is apt to remain popular for some time. The players like it."

"To many players laying the ball down, bunting, is simply a waste of time. The slash-away methods have a much greater appeal than the safety-first tactics."

Larry Lajoie, who seldom made a mistake as a player, seems to have made a mighty accurate prediction as a mere fan.

Larry is a fan. He hasn't forgotten the game simply because he is no longer a participant.

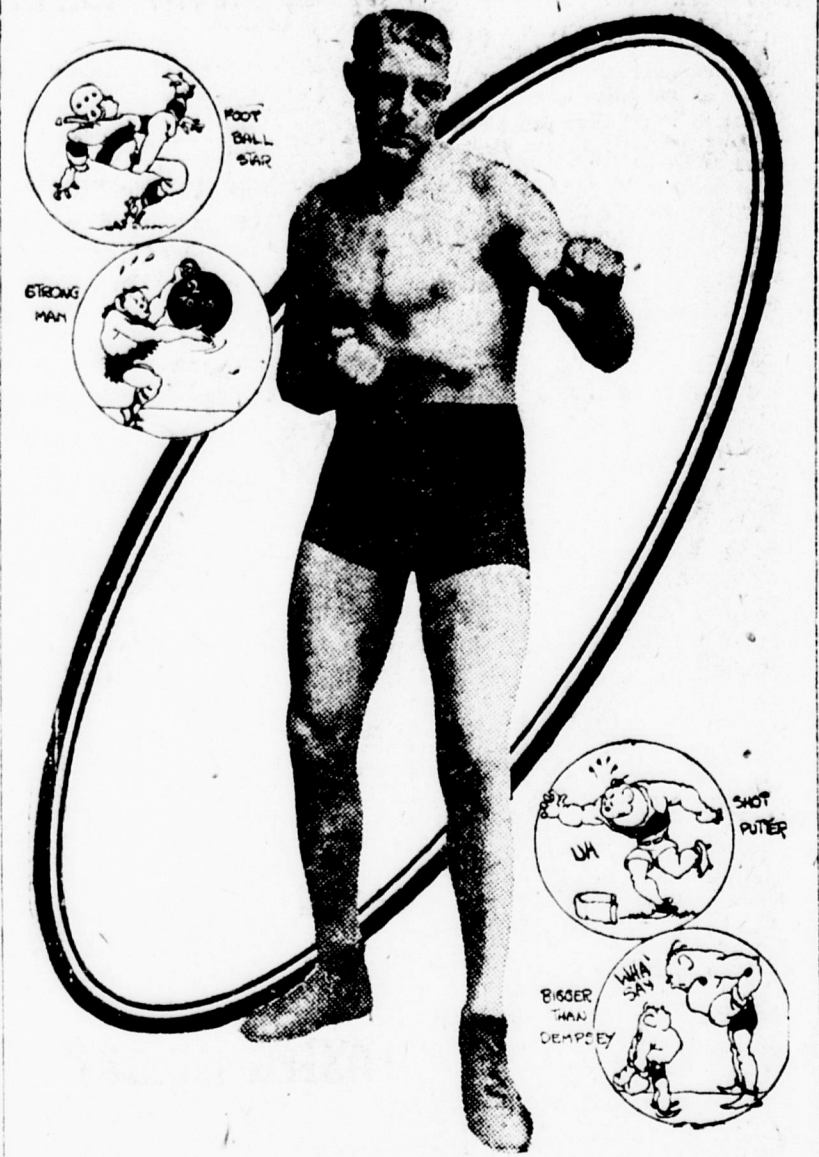

While Larry has become an ardent golf enthusiast, he still has time between business and golf to get out to the ball park. Remarkable man, Larry.

"I play golf because I like it and it furnishes much needed exercise," he says. "I watch baseball because I regard it as the greatest game in the world."

Is base running due for a revival, as many of the major league managers believe? Certain conditions will determine that.

The extent to which base running

Latest Rival for Dempsey's Title Is Star "Rah-Rah" Athlete

FRED ROBERTS

Now we have the educated fighter seeking the crown of Champion Jack Dempsey.

Impossible! You say. Nothing of the kind.

The latest aspirant to the title of Champion Jack is none other than Fred Roberts, star "rah-rah" athlete of Ogleshorpe College, Georgia.

Don't get the impression that Fred is ready to hurl himself into the ring with the heavyweight champion. Far from it. He thinks he will be fit to go inside of two years.

Georgia is noted for its crop of star athletes, including Ty Cobb, the "Georgia Peach," Young Stribling, the youthful first sensation, and now comes Fred Roberts, the "Georgia Giant."

Roberts is only 6 feet 4 inches, weighs 230 pounds in the proverbial pink and is rarin' to go.

During his college days he won comes back this year will be largely determined by the effectiveness of the pitchers.

If the pitchers curtail the slugging somewhat, then the value of base running will correspondingly increase.

If the pitchers at some time in the near future get the upper hand again, then the running will come back with a bang.

The revival of base running will be entirely up to the pitching.

Both major leagues will keep the old ball in play this year. That is sure to help pitching.

Fandom, however, will be disappointed if it expects the style of running game, featured by Ty Cobb in his palmy days, to return.

Sisler May Give Up Baseball If Unable To Play

By NEA Service.

St. Louis, April 17.—Rymor has it that if George Sisler finds he is unable to play regularly, he may decide to give up baseball at the close of the year and devote his entire time to the printing business, in which he is heavily interested.

Sisler, although unable to play a single game last season, received his entire salary. It is understood that a contract signed prior to 1923 called for two years at a fancy figure. Taking over the management was probably caused by a desire to protect his contract.

Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb, two of the game's greatest players, have been successful as managers. Since good managers are scarce, the owners of the Browns were glad to gamble with Sisler. Incidentally, Sisler was glad to get a chance to earn his stipend.

If Sisler is able to play, also defame as a shot putter, hammer thrower and strong man.

However, his greatest athletic feats were probably performed on the gridiron. Many of the southern critics rate him as one of the greatest football players ever produced below the Mason and Dixon line.

In his days at Ogleshorpe, Roberts was a marked man in every game he played. "Get Roberts" was the slogan of the opposition. Despite this he never was taken out of the game because of injuries.

Walk Miller of Atlanta is championing Roberts in the best of ring society and feels that his protégé has a great chance to succeed in the ring since his gridiron record shows 11 football rivals never made him take the count.

Roberts is to be groomed carefully. The soft spots will be picked for him until ring experience fits him to take on the heavyweights of the better class.

Roberts as a manager, the Browns will be all to the good.

If Sisler finds that he is unable to play, it is hinted he may retire at the close of the 1924 season.

COBB THINKS HIS CATCHERS ARE SUPREME

In Bismarck, Woodall and Marion, the Detroit Tigers boast one of the best catching staffs in the majors, thinks Ty Cobb.

Everything considered, this trio will compare favorably with any in the game.

All are good receivers. Each is clever with the stick. The first two named being consistent 300 clubbers.

Bassler is the dean of the corps though he is only a youngster in point of service.

The Tigers obtained each one of these three backstops directly from the minors. In other words, whatever big league experience they possess was received since coming to Detroit.

PETTINGILL BLOWS

Al Pettinill of New Orleans proved to be little more than a morning glory among the bantams, starting out like a real corner, the Dixie boys soon began to skid and Bud Taylor of Terra Haute put the final stopper on him the other night, scoring a knockout in two rounds.

FOOLISH RENAULT

Jack Renault made a foolish match when he consented to take on Jack Johnson in Canada next month. A victory over the aged ex-champion won't help Renault's stock any and if Johnson manages to go the limit with him—which isn't at all unlikely—it won't look very good for Dempsey's "foremost challenger."

There are 800,000 factory workers in New York state who cannot speak English.

LARGE ACREAGE OF FLAX MAY CUT THE PRICE

Agricultural College Expert
Urges Farmers to Exercise
Care in Planting

TO SEEK A HIGH YIELD

Fargo, N. D., April 17.—North Dakota farmers should exercise extra care to produce high yields of flax per acre and thus reduce the cost of production per bushel due to the fact that the greatly increased acreage indicated for 1924 may affect the market price unfavorably. This is the warning issued by Rex E. Willard, farm economist, and T. E. Stoen, assistant agronomist, of the Experiment station at the North Dakota Agricultural college. They have issued the following statement:

"An increase of 54 percent in the acreage of flax for 1924 over the acreage of 1923 is indicated by reports of the division of crop and livestock estimates of the United States department of agriculture. This means an addition of approximately 1,098,000 acres over 1923, with an average yield of 7.6 bushels of flax per acre. The probable production on this basis will amount to 23,659,000 bushels.

The average acreage cropped to flax in the United States in 1918 to 1922 inclusive was 1,478,000 acres. The average annual production for this period was about 10,000,000 bushels and the average annual consumption about 30,000,000 bushels. In 1923 the acreage was increased approximately 85 percent over the 1922 acreage or about 36 percent over the five-year average. The proposed increase over 1923 in the four leading flax states according to March 1 plans is as follows: North Dakota, 60 percent; Minnesota, 33 percent; South Dakota, 34 percent; and Montana, 140 percent.

"The annual yield of flax per acre is variable, ranging from approximately 4½ bushels in 1917 to more than 10 bushels per acre in 1915. No one can foretell the production for 1924, but using the average yield as the base, some indication may be shown as to the probable situation.

"The average annual consumption of flaxseed in the United States since 1918 is approximately 30,000,000 bushels, ranging from 22,000,000 in 1918 to 34,000,000 in 1922 and slightly over 35,000,000 in 1923. The demand for flaxseed is affected by the conditions of the building trade, as related to paint and varnish consumption, and also, to some extent, by the consumption of linoleum, printer's ink, patent leather and water proofing materials. Likewise, European conditions materially affect flaxseed consumption.

"Argentina supplies from 65 to 80 percent of the flax seed that enters into world trade. The 1923 world crop, including the large crop of Argentina harvested a few months ago, was approximately 15,000,000 bushels in excess of the pre-war average.

"Fortunately, the United States is an importing country and has the protection of 40 cents a bushel on flax seed and 33 cents per pound on linseed oil as long as we continue on an import basis. The price in the United States should be approximately above the world price by the amount of the tariff.

"Should our annual consumption in 1924-25 be approximately the five-year average of 30,000,000 bushels it is possible that the 24,000,000 bushels above indicated may appreciably affect the price this fall. It has frequently happened that a large crop of certain commodities has brought gross income much less than a smaller crop has brought and it is conceivable that this might be the result if too large an increase is made in the production of this year's flax crop. Some increase over 1923 appears to be justified."

BREWERY ON LINER

Bremen, Germany, April 17.—A complete brewing plant has been installed in the North German Lloyd Stuttgart. The vessel will carry German beer to the outward trip, but as new stocks cannot be taken on, owing to prohibition, the beer will be brewed on ship for the passengers during the return trip from New York.

MANDAN NEWS

Henderson To Head Park Board

Dr. A. O. Henderson and Ben Anderson were formally sworn in and assumed positions as president and commissioner respectively on the city board. The session was brief, only for formality of organization being carried out and assignments of departments announced. The commission voted to hold the regular weekly meetings each Wednesday evening and the session was adjourned until tonight when details of the organization will be perfected.

Under the reorganization J. B. Fredericks will have charge of the waterworks and sewerage departments; Thomas G. Conroy will be five and police commissioner; C. E. Dorfler will superintend the street and public improvement department and Ben L. Anderson will be commissioner of finance and revenue.

"MISS MANDAN" HONORED

The Mandan Rotary Club members entertained their wives at dinner yesterday at the Methodist church where Mrs. A. B. Welch assisted by others served a turkey dinner, the proceeds of which is to go toward the fund for the memorial tablet to be erected by the War Mothers, at the west end of the Missouri river bridge.

The guest of honor was Miss Elsie Brandt of Bismarck who has been designated by the Bismarck Rotarians to be "Miss Mandan" at the Ninth district conference to be held in that city next week. Each city in the district will have one of Bismarck's popular young ladies to represent them, and in order to get better acquainted Miss Brandt was brought to Mandan to meet the Rotarians.

STAKE OUT LOCATION

The location for the new dormitory at the State Training school was staked out yesterday by engineers and preliminary work will be started this week. The building which is aimed to reduce the congestion in the boys' quarters of the institution, will be located about 200 feet east of the main central driveway to the school and opposite the new gymnasium.

The building will have no basement, the heating coming from the main power plant. It will be two stories high and cover an acre 118 by 82 feet. It is to be English Gothic in style.

ESSAY PRIZE IS AWARDED

Grand Forks Youth Wins
Senator Ladd's Free Trip

Duane Squires of Grand Forks is winner of first prize in an essay contest inaugurated by Senator E. F. Ladd, the prize being a free trip to Washington, including a two weeks' stay in the national capital for the winner. Competition was limited to those between the ages of 12 and 21, the subject, "The True Functions of Government."

John J. Tigert, Commissioner of Education of the United States, reviewed the papers. The letter of Mr. Tigert, explaining the awards, follows:

March 31, 1924.

Honorable Edwin F. Ladd,
United States Senate,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Senator Ladd:

I return herewith the manuscripts in the Prize Essay Contest. We have examined these and have concluded that the first six in order of excellence were the Essays written by:

- 1—Duane Squires, Grand Forks, North Dakota.
- 2—Herdis Schanche, Grand Forks, North Dakota.
- 3—Emily Squires, Grand Forks, North Dakota.
- 4—Harold V. Knight, Jamestown, North Dakota.
- 5—Hazel Lambe, Grand Forks, North Dakota.
- 6—Ralph R. Travis, Jamestown, North Dakota.

The Essay by Duane Squires is exceptionally good, both as to originality in its conception and in its execution. The remaining Essays are distinctly creditable as the work of high school students and of such a high order that it would be difficult to judge between them. You, as well as the students who participated in this contest, are to be congratulated on the interest stimulated in this all-important subject. I anticipate with much pleasure the opportunity of meeting the winner of the contest, Duane Squires, personally when he visits Washington.

Cordially yours,
(Sgd.) JOHN J. TIGERT,
Commissioner.

Hoboes Now Avoid New York

New York, April 17.—The hobo is becoming extinct along the sidewalks of New York. A check-up by welfare Reasons advanced for the growing scarcity of the tramp are that he can no longer successfully meet both the demands of his conscience and those of New York employers.

Geologist Insists Wheeler's Activities Did Not Constitute "Appearance"

Washington, April 17.—(By the A. P.)—Cutting at once to the heart of the whole controversy, the special Senate committee investigating the Montana charges against Senator Wheeler opened its hearings today with testimony hearing directly on the extent of his activities in Washington in connection with cases in which Montana clients were interested.

From Gordon Campbell, a geologist who said he employed the Senator in 1922 to represent him in the state courts, the committee received copies of two sets of telegrams passing between him and Wheeler, one purporting to show that Wheeler had "been advised" the government could not intervene in Campbell's behalf in land proceedings against him, and the other indicating that the Senator had arranged for Campbell to confer with Solicitor Booth.

of the Interior Department regarding "the Lincoln permit."

Campbell, who was indicted with Wheeler in Montana, insisted that his only connection with Wheeler's "appearance" before the Interior Department on behalf of his clients, as charged in the indictment. On the advice of Solicitor Booth, the witness said, he had hired his own Washington attorney to handle land cases here. He insisted that Senator Wheeler had told him he could not handle such cases because of his election to the Senate.

CONFERENCE OF AGENTS TO BE OF WIDE SCOPE

Montana and North Dakota
Experts Will be Invited To Fargo Also

Minneapolis, April 17.—The meeting of county agents at Fargo next Tuesday in connection with the activities of the Agricultural Credit Corporation took on an extended scope today when M. O. Grandgaard, vice-president, invited county agents from Northwestern Minnesota and representatives from agricultural colleges in Montana and South Dakota, to participate in the corporation.

Sixty-five persons interested in the corporation's plan to assist diversification activities in the Northwest are expected to attend the conference which will take the form of round-table discussion.

The conference was called after the board of directors of the corporation had approved a plan to lend one million dollars direct to farmers to purchase livestock.

H. W. Byerly, general immigration agent for the Northern Pacific Railway, and E. C. Leedy, agricultural development agent for the Great Northern, today proffered their assistance to the corporation in carrying out its experiment, which calls for placing 10,000 head of cattle on farms in one-crop sections of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana by August 1. Sections where there are no county agents the railroad agents offered to bring farmers in touch with the corporation.

45 To Compete In Smith-Hughes Judging Contest

Fargo, N. D., April 17.—Forty-five youths representing 15 Smith-Hughes high schools of the state will compete in the annual state contest in livestock judging which will be held May 8-9 at the North Dakota Agricultural college under the direction of E. H. Jones, state supervisor of vocational agriculture.

The schools that have already entered the contest and their instructors in agriculture are as follows: Anamoose, V. E. Erickson; Beach, Martin Ostrum; Crosby, John Bartruff; Cavalier, Fred Willson; Grafton, Ira Montgomery; Harvey, W. W. Barr; Minot, R. Dell Stewart; Kenmare, Fred Mares; LaMoure, S. Bullard; Madock, H. Haidahl; Noyah, E. J. Ferguson; Nottville, Clarence Walter; Park River, E. J. Taintor; Velva, Raymond Aune.

A team of three men will represent each of the schools in the stock judging contest and seven teams will be awarded the winning teams and individuals. All classes of livestock will be judged as will also poultry, this year being the first that a poultry judging contest has been arranged.

Minot Backs Irrigation Work

Minot, N. D., April 17.—Plans for definite co-operation between the Williston and Minot interests in trying to persuade the federal government to continue the reclamation project at Williston, were outlined at a joint meeting at Williston of representatives of the Minot Association of Commerce and the Williston Commercial club. Another meeting is planned soon to formulate definite proposals.

Minot's attitude is expressed as being that the irrigation project is something promising industrial development of northwestern North Dakota and that businessmen and farmers of this section are interested in seeing it advanced as they are interested in any plans for north-west development.

FINE RECORD OF SARGENT CO.

Diversification in Full Swing
There, Says Devine

Sargent county, one of the smallest counties in the state, offers proof that diversification in farming is here, according to Commissioner of Immigration J. M. Devine, who has received from Sargent county residents a statement of the amount and value of farm products sold during 1923. Sargent county, with a population of but 11,000, shipped $2,500,000 worth of farm products, listed in the statement as follows:

Nine hundred and twenty-eight cars wheat, $1,169,000; 81 cars oats, $30,375; 104 cars barley, $49,920; 52 cars rye, $36,400; 167 cars corn, $110,200; 75 cars flax, $263,125; 65 cars potatoes, $13,000; 108 cars hay, $9,720; 299 cars cattle, $225,000; 468 cars hogs, $518,500; 17,400 cases of eggs, $125,800; 468,010 gallons cream, $468,010; 62,400 pounds hides, $4,358; 90,000 pounds butter, $36,000; 60,000 pounds dressed wool, $7,200; alfalfa and sweet clover seed, $100,000; 750,000 pounds poultry, $150,000—total $2,500,000.

A study of the above statement will show this suggestive fact: her production and sale of wheat, oats, barley and rye was $1,275,000 while her so-called diversified farming products amounted to $2,190,275, said Mr. Devine.

Many Have Appendicitis Don't Know It

Much so-called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gasses and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Jos. Breslow, druggist.—Adv.

STORM CENTER

Francis J. Heney, who won fame as prosecutor in the San Francisco graft cases, again pops into the limelight through his appointment by Senator Conzen, Michigan, as a special examiner in alleged tax fraud matters. It was this that drew from President Coolidge a special message to the Senate protesting against "government by investigation."

The Truth

About this Light-Six—plus proof on proof

THIS Studebaker Light-Six is the supreme value in the "thousand-dollar" class.

It offers, not a few, but scores of advantages. In its chassis it represents the best that modern engineering knows. In its steels and quality of construction it is identical with the costliest cars we build.

This is to offer you proofs. Then urge that you see it before paying $1,000 or more for a car.

Some evidence

The extra values which this car typifies have made Studebaker the largest builder of quality cars.

They have made these cars a sensation. Sales have almost trebled in three years. Last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

The multiplying demand has forced an investment of $50,000,000 in model plants and equipment. Of this, $38,000,000 has been spent in the past five years, so the plants are up-to-date.

The engineering department which designs and superintends this Light-Six costs $500,000 per year.

The machines which build it are modern and exact. 517 operations on this car are exact to 1/1000th of an inch. 122 operations are exact to one-half 1/1000th of an inch.

1,200 inspectors are employed to submit each car in the making to 32,000 inspections.

Studebaker Light-Six Scores of extra values

Built by the leader in the fine-car class. One of the cars for which people last year paid $201,000,000.

Built in a model $50,000,000 plant, producing 150,000 cars yearly. And saving you by quantity production from $200 to $400.

Built of the same steels, with the same care, as the costliest cars we make.

The car that saved 11.4% in operating cost under rivals. The car with 14 Timken bearings.

The equipment is unusual. The cushions are of genuine leather, and are ten inches deep.

Every part and detail accords with Studebaker traditions. And the name Studebaker has for 72 years stood for quality and class.

cars in this class called in auditors to compare the operating costs. They made comparisons on 329 cars, running up to 25,000 miles.

It was found that this Studebaker Light-Six cost for operation 11.4% less than the average of its rivals. This figure included depreciation. That meant $207.50 saved on 25,000 miles. All because of this quality construction.

What it saves you

We build 150,000 cars yearly. All such major costs as engineering, dies, overhead, etc., are divided by 150,000.

We build in model plants, with modern machinery, which have immensely reduced the manufacturing costs.

A car like this, built under ordinary conditions, would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

Learn, for your own sake, what that means to you.

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance: It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free—clip the coupon below.
